Lucy Vandervoort Morris joins the IFM Board of Directors

Lucy is a native of Anniston and graduated from The Donoho School before getting her BS in Neuroscience at Vanderbilt University.

She met her husband, Andrew, who is an orthopedic surgeon practicing at Anniston Orthopedic Associates, during medical school at the University of South Alabama.

She completed her residency in Family Medicine at St. Vincent's East in Birmingham. She and Andrew have a 9-year-old daughter, Martha, a 4-year-old daughter, Cecile, and a chocolate lab named Scout. Lucy enjoys being a mother to her girls, exercising, reading, and spending time outdoors.

Lucy's mother, Martha, was our dedicated Executive Director for many years. We are excited to have Lucy continuing her mother's passion for community service.

Interfaith Through the Decades

As we prepare for the upcoming fiftieth anniversary celebration, staff and volunteers have been cataloging photos, programs and newspaper clippings (yes, actual articles clipped and bound in notebooks)!

We've had the most fun waltzing down memory lane with cherished memories of our community.

The clothing, hair styles and cars may have changed, but our community's commitment to the underserved and needy in Calhoun County has never waivered.

Enjoy a few snaps through the decades!

Do you have a fun memory or a photo you'd like to share for our anniversary event?

Interfaith Ministries Marks 50 Years of Community

August 7th

11:30 - 1:00

Oxford Civic Center

Join us for a celebration, sponsored by Alabama Power Company, as we honor our founders, leaders, volunteers and donors. We will hear from ESPN anchor Lauren Sissler, as she shares her compelling story. Her message is clear: confront adversity with bravery, own your story, and let it propel you towards a future filled with greater meaning and fulfillment.
